2 BUILDING CAMPAIGN UPDATE

Three alums have spearheaded the new building effort and the law school community has happily followed their lead. Although groundbreaking is slated for October and $7.5 million has been pledged, there is still much to be done. You can help.

6 LAW SCHOOL AT CAMPUS CENTER

This summer, the law school will move to the former Health Sciences Library and the 515 Building while the current School of Law building is dismantled and the new one is constructed. The two-year stay at the "Law School at Campus Center" began in February with the packing of files, furniture and books.

8 ECHOES FROM THE PAST

After 39 years, esteemed Professor John Ester will teach torts one last semester. In a career filled with high notes, he has lunched with Chief Justice Earl Warren, spent a tense day in moot court with some Black Panthers and changed the lives of some 4,000 students.

12 ANNUAL HONORS BANQUET AWARDEES

Herbert Belgrad '61 will receive the 1999 Benjamin L. Cardin Pro Bono Service Award, and Alan Wilner '62 will be the 1999 Distinguished Graduate Award recipient.

14 MICHAEL MILLEMANN—PUTTING MARYLAND'S LEGAL CLINICS ON THE MAP

Co-Director Michael Millemann's tireless work has gained national prominence for the law school's Clinical Law Program.

16 ALUMNI PROFILE: BUILDING A BUSINESS THROUGH A TEMPORARY SOLUTION

Laura Black '88 and her classmate Mark Neumann '88 founded Baltimore's first legal temp service in 1991. Purchased in 1995, Attorneys Per Diem became part of Special Counsel, the largest legal temp firm in the country. As Chief Executive Officer and President of Special Counsel, Black has become a national leader in a relatively new business enterprise.

18 AS THE OLD ADAGE GOES: WHAT'S INSIDE MATTERS MOST

As the law school moves to temporary digs on Lombard Street and finalizes plans for its new building, Dean Donald G. Gifford has retooled the school's administration.
